NEWS NOTES FROM THE CANANEA DISTRICT

(Special Correspondence.)
CANANEA, Nov. 9.—When the La Moda store closes out its stock of goods, which it is rapidly doing, one of Cananea's mercantile landmarks will have been removed. The store was opened at its present place in the camp's earliest day and the decision of the proprietors to withdraw from the field is a matter of speculation. The owners, Horviller, Canon & Co., have mercantile establishments in various parts of the republic, with headquarters in Paris. M. Roset, the local manager, has extensive interests here and is not expected to leave.

The "El Diario," one of the leading newspapers of Mexico City, has a cut of the Juarres ball team of this city in a recent issue, and gives an extensive account of the prowess of said organization. The picture is used as a caption under which the progress of baseball in Mexico is lengthily discussed. The article on the great game is well enough, but when it comes to the inevitability of the portrayed team, the Boscos have some very disquieting refutations to place on file. A ball in honor of Misses Maria and Guadalupe Ayila was given at the Hotel Sonora Saturday night. This function was planned for more than two weeks and was an elaborate and successful affair. The committee in charge of the arrangements were: F. B. Rivas, E. Ibarra and Enrique Bernste. The reception committee was D. W. Hopkins, R. Estrada, C. I. Marquez, C. Bernsten Ray Smoldt, J. Hulan and Colin Bury.

Steinfeldt Cox is a native Mississippian who has not been in this section long enough to westernize his vocabulary. In referring to the recklessness with which some dusky gamblers display in the game of craps around his native hearth, he said: "Let's o' Coons shoot right smart o' money heap o' times."

Wm. Miller, of South Bend, Ind., is here looking after the affairs of the Kansas-Cananea company, in which he is heavily interested.

M. Sontag, of J. M. Gibbs & Co., has gone to the coast for a month's stay.

A bunch of Greene Cattle company cowboys came into town this morning from near Del Rio where they have been fighting fire.

W. C. Greene left on the Yerdo today for Tucson.

At the Sonora: Lee Hardin, Sonora; T. B. McCauley, Mazatlan; M. D. Betz, Miss West, G. Eustis, Bisbee; Geo. Creagar, Spokane; J. Bunigan, Ignacio; Tomas, Magdalena; Thos. Lester, Little Rock, Arkansas.

At the Alexandria: R. H. Harnsburg, Mexico City; D. Storms, S. A. Peterson, El Paso; R. Felscher, Nogales; R. R. Wymber, Denver; Dr. I. J. A. Packer, San Diego; Ernest Harrah, New York; J. C. Furgusson, San Francisco; F. Kennedy, Santa Rosalia; O. F. Schroeder, Sonora.

Giant Turtles.
Capturing giant turtles seems to be a profitable business along the Maine coast. A 1,500-pound one was recently taken in those waters, and so great a curiosity was it that the two captors promptly exchanged it for a perfectly good check for $250. The purchasers present-day P. T. Barnum, hope to reap a small fortune by exhibiting the turtle at various county fairs.

Better Than Hard Work.
He was a frank New York beggar, soliciting in Fourteenth street during the early days of the week, who when asked why he didn't go to work answered: "Why should I try to get work when I couldn't earn more than a couple of dollars a day, and I can make three or four dollars a day much easier!"

Life's Eternal Strife.
The world has no room for cowards. We must all be ready somehow to toll, to suffer, to die. And yours is not the less noble because no drums beat before you when you go out into your daily battlefields and no crowds shout about your coming when you return from your daily victory or defeat.—R. L. Stevenson.

Stamps and Sentiment.
A monument to Burns has been erected by the people of Scotland beside the old kirk, where his father was buried, about half a mile from the cottage. It is an ugly affair, and the interior is given up to selling post cards. A thriving business is done by the postmaster here.—Boston Herald.

Dedicate Instruments.
The amount of work done by the work of an eye equals 100,000,000,000 of the work marked on the scale of a delicate instrument; but even this performance is surpassed by the "coherers" of Branley of Paris, by which the Hertz waves of wireless telegraphy are caught in their pulsings through space.

A Day with Dollars in It.
"It was such clear, bright, beautiful weather yesterday," says a Georgia editor, "that you could see a silver dollar half a mile, with a bill collector two steps behind it—and, of course, he had a better chance to get it than you had. Heaven send us more beautiful weather, and more silver dollars!"—Atlanta Constitution.

S. J. DOMINGUEZ HAS SATISFIED CREDITORS

Joe E. Morrison, of the law firm of Morrison & Dorr, returned Saturday afternoon from Naco, where he attended to the reconveyance to S. J. Jose Dominguez of about $40,000 worth of property which Ed M. Blake assigned had left after satisfying all the creditors of Dominguez.

Of the considerable number of assignments which occurred in this section during the hard times, this is the only one which has settled in full with creditors. Dominguez has shown himself to be a man of sound business ability and honesty, and is to be congratulated upon the successful termination of his assignment.

THORNLESS CACTI IN COCHISE.

The 52 thornless cactus leaves which started to grow last spring on the Boquillas Land & Cattle Co. ranch south of Benson, in the San Pedro valley, have every one added an increase of from two to seven thornless leaves. This week Manager H. K. Stetson personally counted 198 new leaves, most of which are over a foot long. They are on a patch of exceptionally tough soil, unfit for anything else, and the worst that could be selected for cactus, but the big succulent slabs of rich cattle feed came on nevertheless, and now that the plants are well rooted they will reproduce faster than ever.—Benson Press.

SIRENS AND SONS.

Lord Brassey, the great English authority on naval matters, is seventy-two years old, but he is devoting himself to studying German.

Captain George Kimball of North Dubuque, Ia., who is seventy-six years old, is the father of twenty-three children, the youngest of whom was presented May 27 by his fourth wife, who is nineteen years old.

When Dr. Francis Edward Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor society, was asked the other day who gave the society its name he replied: "I wish I knew definitely. The name seemed to come to me instinctively. Still, I may have heard it and used it unconsciously."

Henry C. Thurston of Mount Vernon, Tex., who attended the late reunion of Confederate veterans in Memphis, is seventy-seven years old, seven feet seven inches in height, weighs 223 pounds and has never been disabled even for a day except by wounds received in the civil war.

Fred D. Contiss, the new president of the Chicago Stock Exchange, is one of the youngest presidents the organization ever had. He is a member of the firm of S. H. Clarke & Co. and began his business career as a messenger in the Merchants' National bank. He is only thirty-seven years old.

James Simon, the most noted Hebrew in Germany, is a great friend of the Kaiser, is head of the German Oriental society, is president of the Federated Jewish Organizations and an active spirit in everything connected with Jewish affairs. He has a magnificent home and is one of Germany's leading dry goods merchants.

THE GIRL AND THE GAME.

HE took her to the ball game, and when they had found their places he showed her where the players stood and told about the bases. With patient care he showed her that the umpire did not play. Explaining that on every point he had the final say. He pointed out the benches where the rival players sat. And made it clear that "club" is not the same thing as a bat.

She thanked him prettily and said she thought that it was splendid. To have the chance to see a game and be so well attended. And when he carefully set forth the pitchers' plan and aim. She thanked him once again and said that she was glad she came. He told her why the man was out and showed her how a fly. When caught before it struck the ground would make him out and why.

He did not give her any chance to ask a single question. He analyzed the game for her without the least suggestion. With finger pointed at the men he showed how it was done. Showed how the catcher signaled to the men to stay on or leave. And while with cheers the very air above the field was jarred. He showed her how to mark the run upon the little card.

She smiled a gentle smile and said she wished she had his knowledge. That she had tried to play the game one year at Emerson college. He grinned in pity, then he told in measured tones and slow. The inner motives of the game as then and there on show. Then came the ninth; the score was tied; two out, the bases full. And every rooster in the stand exerting maxillary pull.

A long, clean hit to center—and a tumult on the bleachers. With men in wildest voices shouting like to crazy creatures. And she—oh, she was on her feet and yelling all the while. In accents that you could have heard, I'm sure, for half a mile! "Oh, run, run, run, run, run, run!" Her tones were shrill and loud. And soared above the roaring and the shrieking of the crowd. He never said a word as they walked homeward from the game. But for a week or so the world was not to him the same. —Willbur D. Nesbit in Chicago Post.

Helping Him Along.
"See here," said Blank to the alleged humorist of the village weekly, "what do you mean by using my name so often in connection with your jokes? Blank says this and Blank says that, etc.?" "My dear boy," replied the party of the funny part, "I do that because it attracts attention. Nearly all our readers know you, and when they read those jokes they invariably say, 'Well, that's certainly a brilliant remark—for Blank.'"—Pittsburg Post.

Amusements

'THE GIRL QUESTION.'

Pretty girls and catchy songs and dances which are marvels of grace and action, a cast of startling players and above all a play with a plot of intense human interest are found in the "Girl Question," the entrancing musical play which comes to the Orpheum Wednesday. The play is along the lines and is in fact a successor to "The Time, the Place and the Girl," the musical play which has jammed every theatre in which it has played since its run of 463 performances in Chicago.

The prettiest chorus girls who have ever been in one show are found in "The Girl Question," as are also the famous "1,000 Beauty Brothers," the latter being the ten little girls who dance with an abandon of emotion and enthusiasm, and an amount of ginger which has never been equaled.

The plot of "The Girl Question" reveals a story of every day life which is of real human interest though broken up in its development at moments to allow for the introduction of songs and dances. The production was staged by that past master in the exploitation of dramatic scenes, beautiful stage pictures and graceful dances, George Marion, the producer of the "Merry Widow," "A Stubborn Cinderella," "The Prince of Pilsen," etc. The songs include "Good-bye Pal," "I Hate to Work on Monday," "Oh, Gee, Be Sweet to Me Kid," "Waltz Me Around Till I'm Dreamy," "When Eyes Like Yours Look Into Eyes-Like Mine," "The Old Buck and Wing," and "Do Something."

"The Girl Question" is the latest of the series of unique musical comedy entertainments which Adams, Hough and Howard have furnished the La Salle Theatre, Chicago, will be seen here after a long run in the Windy City. It is a rushing, bustling, jolly, unconventional sort of a play with song and action in every line and situation and those who have enjoyed its predecessor, "The Time, the Place and the Girl," will surely be pleased with it. The sale of seats opens today.

Patrons of the Family Theatre, the new picture show located in what is known as the old Opera House, were treated to a good program last night. The managers report a crowded house.
